

Call for Full Time Tenured/Tenure-Track Research Position in Urban Design in Architecture

Open Call for Research Faculty Position in Urban Design in Architecture

The Faculty of Architecture and Town Planning at the Technion - Israel Institute of Technology invites applications for a full-time tenure track or tenured position in the research field of Urban Design in Architecture. We seek an outstanding candidate with a strong commitment to excellence in research and teaching, who can demonstrate a holistic understanding of both the contemporary and historical contexts of urban design, along with the motivation to critically assess and expand the body of knowledge in the field's theory and methods.

The candidate will actively lead the research and teaching in the field of Urban Design, one of 5 fields in the Architecture program, and engage in transdisciplinary research. Knowledge and skills in allied disciplines such as geoinformation, urban sustainability, heritage management, sociology, urban studies, urban economy, etc. are an advantage.

Salary and compensation will be comparable with Israeli university standards and include a generous start-up grant.

Key Responsibilities:

- Conducting cutting-edge research in the field of Urban Design in Architecture.
- Contributing to the academic and professional community through publications, conferences, and collaborative projects.
- Supervising graduate students.
- Teaching undergraduate and graduate level courses in Urban Design and related subjects.
- Engaging in service activities within the faculty.

Qualifications:

- A Ph.D. in Architecture, Urban Design, or a closely related field.
- Professional experience in urban design practice is highly desirable.
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills, with the ability to work collaboratively in a multidisciplinary environment.

Application Requirements:

Interested candidates should submit the following documents:

1. A statement letter explaining the candidate's interest in the position and how their experience aligns with the required qualifications. It should also include the candidate's research interests, future research plans, and a teaching statement outlining the types of courses the candidate wishes to teach and develop.
2. A detailed curriculum vitae (CV) including a list of publications.

Applications should be submitted electronically to [ar.dean.ad@technion.ac.il]. Please include "Application for Faculty Position in Urban Design" in the subject line.

Application Deadline:

Submission open: November 2024

Submission deadline: January 31st, 2025

About the Technion and the Faculty:

The Technion - Israel Institute of Technology is one of the leading institutions of higher education in Israel and globally recognized for its excellence in science, engineering, and architecture. The Faculty of Architecture and Town Planning is committed to advancing the field of architecture and urban design through innovative research, teaching, and professional practice.

Contact Information:

For inquiries regarding the position, please contact ar.dean.ad@technion.ac.il

